

Jaime Correa CLU, FLMI
Senior Vice President, Marketing Integration

RGA Reinsurance Company

Jaime Correa is Senior Vice President, Marketing Integration at RGA Reinsurance Company. The principal responsibilities of the position, to which he was appointed October 2010, encompass comprehensive integrated global development support for all of RGA's principal business lines - Global Mortality Markets, Global Group, Health, Long-Term Care, and Global Financial Markets.

Jaime's strong market-building experience and leadership capabilities have prepared him well for this global role. He started his career in 1982 at The Travelers Life Insurance Company as an individual life and health underwriter, and had risen to Director of Life Underwriting by 1995. That year, he came to RGA to develop its facultative business in Latin America, and by 2000, was in charge of the Latin American division.

In 2003, Jaime was appointed to lead the Distribution Solutions Group, which later evolved into the Life Product Services group, and in 2009, was appointed to lead business development for Mortality Markets, RGA's largest business unit.

Jaime is a Chartered Life Underwriter and Fellow, Life Management Institute. He holds a B.A. degree in American History from Wesleyan University and an M.B.A. from the University of Connecticut.
